> Praise be to the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of compassion and the God of all comfort, who comforts us in all our troubles, so that we can comfort those in any trouble with the comfort we ourselves receive from God.
>
> — 2 Corinthians 1:3-4

Book: New Testament / 2 Corinthians
Topics: Comforter, compassion, courage, encouragement, suffering, worship

Interpretation:
The verses 2 Corinthians 1:3-4 praise God as the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ. This means that God is our spiritual Father and Jesus Christ is His Son, therefore, both God and Jesus Christ are one and the same divine being. This is one of the most important teachings of the Christian faith, which shows us the union between God and Jesus Christ and teaches us that we can have a close relationship with God through Jesus Christ.

The Father of mercy

The verses mention that God is the Father of Mercy, which means that God is a merciful and compassionate God who is willing to forgive our sins and give us His grace. Jesus Christ, the Son of God, taught us love and compassion, so we can be sure that our Heavenly Father will love us and guide us at all times. This is a comforting truth that encourages us to seek God’s mercy in our lives and ask Him for help and guidance during difficult times.

The God of all comfort

2 Corinthians 1:3 also introduces God as “the God of all comfort.” This means that God is our comforter in times of pain and suffering. In times of loss, illness, or grief, we can seek comfort and support from our heavenly Father, who loves and knows each of us personally. He gives us His peace, His love, and His comfort to help us overcome any difficult situation that may arise in life.

Sharing comfort

2 Corinthians 1:4 says that God comforts us in all our troubles so that we can comfort those who are going through difficult times. That is, because of the comfort we receive from God in times of trouble, we can give comfort and support to those in need.

_____

Attention! This is one of the possible interpretations based on the comments of famous theologians, which may differ from each other. If the interpretation is taken from other languages, then there may be a distortion of meaning when translating the language. Matthew 7:7-8

> For just as we share abundantly in the sufferings of Christ, so also our comfort abounds through Christ.
> — 2 Corinthians 1:5

Book: New Testament / 2 Corinthians
Topics: Comforter, encouragement, Jesus, suffering

Interpretation:
The Bible is a constant source of teaching and reflection in our lives. There are many verses in Scripture that help us understand God's will and how we can apply it in our lives. One such verse is 2 Corinthians 1:5.

Context

Before we delve into the meaning of this verse, it is important to understand the context in which it was written. The Apostle Paul wrote this letter to the church in Corinth to comfort and encourage them after they had faced some challenges in their ministry. He tells us about the hardships he had to face and how God comforted him. In 2 Corinthians 1:5, Paul says that the sufferings of Christ are multiplied for us, but our consolation through Him is also multiplied.

Abundant sufferings

What are the afflictions of Christ? In the context of this verse, we can understand that it is referring to the difficulties we face as Christians. In this world, we face persecution, suffering, pain, and sorrow because of our faith in Christ. However, the fact that these sufferings are attributed to Christ means that we share in His sufferings. When we face these difficulties, we are united with Christ in His sufferings.

Comfort in Christ

But we are not abandoned in this suffering. In the same verse, Paul says that our comfort also abounds in Christ. What does this mean? It means that when we face difficulties, we are not alone.

Christ Himself is with us and comforts us. He is our source of strength, comfort, and hope.

_____

Attention! This is one of the possible interpretations based on the comments of famous theologians, which may differ from each other. If the interpretation is taken from other languages, then there may be a distortion of meaning when translating the language. Matthew 7:7-8

> I, even I, am he who comforts you. Who are you that you fear mere mortals, human beings who are but grass.
>
> — Isaiah 51:12

Book: Old Testament / Isaiah
Topics: Comforter, encouragement, fear

Interpretation:
Isaiah 51:12 presents us with a verse full of comfort and strength, reminding us that God is our comforter. In the midst of our worries, fears, and adversities, the Lord promises to be with us and care for us. It is easy to feel fear when we face unexpected or difficult situations, but this verse encourages us to trust in God's faithfulness and put our hope in Him.

In the second part of the verse, we find a question that encourages us to consider the cause of our fears. God reminds us that mortals and the sons of men are like hay, that is, ephemeral and temporary. In contrast, He is the eternal God who never changes or fails. By recognizing our limitations and God's supremacy, we learn to trust Him and overcome our fears.

The promise of Isaiah 51:12 gives us great strength to endure our burdens, difficulties, and suffering. When we feel alone and weak, we can find comfort in the very presence of a faithful and good God who invites us to trust in Him. It is important to remember that divine comfort is not limited to momentary peace, but it strengthens us to persevere and overcome the adversities that come our way.

_____

Attention! This is one of the possible interpretations based on the comments of famous theologians, which may differ from each other. If the interpretation is taken from other languages, then there may be a distortion of meaning when translating the language. Matthew 7:7-8

> And I will ask the Father, and he will give you another advocate to help you and be with you forever.
>
> — John 14:16

Book: New Testament / John
Topics: Comforter, Father, Holy Spirit, pentecost

Interpretation:
The verse in John 14:16 is a promise from Jesus to his disciples that after He left, he would send another Comforter. This promise tells us about the Holy Spirit sent by God to comfort us, guide us, and illuminate us on our spiritual journey.

In this verse, Jesus is speaking to his disciples before his crucifixion and assuring them that He will not leave them alone. He knows that he will physically leave, but he will send the Holy Spirit to be with them forever. The word “comforter” in Greek is “Parakletos,” which can also be translated as “advocate” or “helper.” This verse shows us that the Holy Spirit is our protector and helper at all times, always present in our lives.

Moreover, this verse tells us not only about the presence of the Holy Spirit in our lives, but also about His duration. Jesus says that the Comforter will be with us forever. This means that the Holy Spirit will always be there to help and comfort us, no matter the circumstances in our lives.

One of the ways the Holy Spirit helps us is by guiding us in our daily lives. The Holy Spirit speaks to us through our conscience and guides us in our lives. It also helps us understand God's will and make wise decisions along the way.

_____

Attention! This is one of the possible interpretations based on the comments of famous theologians, which may differ from each other. If the interpretation is taken from other languages, then there may be a distortion of meaning when translating the language. Matthew 7:7-8

> I will not leave you as orphans; I will come to you.
>
> — John 14:18

Book: New Testament / John
Topics: Comforter, Jesus, nearness, orphans, reliability, Spirit

Interpretation:

John 14:18 is a comforting promise for all believers in Jesus Christ. In this passage, Jesus assures his disciples that he will not leave them orphans and will return to them. This promise also extends to all followers of Christ who come after them.

Jesus never leaves us without comfort

The phrase "I will not leave you as orphans" refers to the loss and loneliness that comes with the death of a loved one. Jesus acknowledges that the loss of a loved one is a difficult and painful experience for anyone. However, He assures us that we will never be without comfort and support during these difficult times.

This promise is a reminder that Jesus is always present in our lives, even in the most difficult times. He gives us his peace and his love, which comfort us in the darkest hours and help us overcome adversity.

Jesus keeps his promise to return to us

The second part of the verse says, "I will come to you." This promise refers to:

1. The resurrection of Christ and His return to heaven after His death on the cross.
2. The giving of the Comforter, the Holy Spirit, to us.
3. The promised Second Coming of Jesus, when He will return to earth to rule as King of kings and Lord of lords.

This promise is a reminder that although we cannot see Jesus physically now, He is always present in our lives and will one day return in a visible and tangible way.

_____

Attention! This is one of the possible interpretations based on the comments of famous theologians, which may differ from each other. If the interpretation is taken from other languages, then there may be a distortion of meaning when translating the language. Matthew 7:7-8

> But the Advocate, the Holy Spirit, whom the Father will send in my name, will teach you all things and will remind you of everything I have said to you.
> — John 14:26

Book: New Testament / John
Topics: Comforter, Father, Holy Spirit, Jesus, learning, pentecost

Interpretation:

John 14:26 talks about the Comforter, the Holy Spirit, an important figure in Christianity. The term refers to the third person of the Christian Trinity, the Holy Spirit. It is important to note that the Comforter, the Holy Spirit, is not a separate entity from God, but rather a manifestation of God's presence and power in the life of a believer.

The second part of the verse says, "will teach you all things and will remind you of everything I have said to you." This is one of the most important functions of the Holy Spirit in the life of a believer: to act as a teacher and a reminder.

The Holy Spirit helps us understand Scripture and discern God's will for our lives. He also reminds us of Jesus' teachings and points us in the right direction. This is especially helpful in times of doubt and uncertainty when we need divine wisdom and guidance.

_____

Attention! This is one of the possible interpretations based on the comments of famous theologians, which may differ from each other. If the interpretation is taken from other languages, then there may be a distortion of meaning when translating the language. Matthew 7:7-8

> When the Advocate comes, whom I will send to you from the Father—the Spirit of truth who goes out from the Father—he will testify about me.
> — John 15:26

Book: New Testament / John
Topics: Comforter, Father, Holy Spirit, Jesus, truth

Interpretation:
The role of the Holy Spirit in our faith is of paramount importance, and the Bible verse that clearly describes it is John 15:26. In this verse, Jesus promises his disciples that He will send the Comforter, the Spirit of truth, who will testify of Him. That is, the Holy Spirit is the One who gives us truth and helps us understand the work and purpose of Jesus in our lives.

Who is the Holy Spirit?

The Holy Spirit is the third person of the Trinity, along with the Father and the Son. He is God himself, and was sent to earth after Jesus ascended to heaven to instruct and comfort believers. The Holy Spirit dwells within us as believers and helps us understand the truth of God's Word and apply it to our lives.

The role of the Holy Spirit in our lives

The Holy Spirit is always present in our lives as believers, guiding and comforting us at all times. He is the one who speaks to us and guides us in our journey of faith. Through the Holy Spirit, we can better understand the Word of God. He helps us to pray and gives us strength and courage to face any situation that may arise.

_____

Attention! This is one of the possible interpretations based on the comments of famous theologians, which may differ from each other. If the interpretation is taken from other languages, then there may be a distortion of meaning when translating the language. Matthew 7:7-8

> But very truly I tell you, it is for your good that I am going away. Unless I go away, the Advocate will not come to you; but if I go, I will send him to you.
> — John 16:7

Book: New Testament / John
Topics: Comforter, pentecost, receiving, Spirit, truth

Interpretation:
In the Bible verse John 16:7, when we read it, we may find it strange and even alarming that Jesus states that His departure is for our benefit.

The coming of the Comforter

However, as with many other passages in the Bible, the key to understanding this message is in the context. The “departure” Jesus speaks of is His ascension to heaven after His death. And after His departure will come the coming of the Comforter, the Holy Spirit, who will be sent to His followers in His place.

The work of the Holy Spirit

The Holy Spirit is considered one of the three persons of the Trinity, along with God the Father and God the Son. After Jesus’ departure, the Holy Spirit becomes His representative and Comforter on earth, guiding believers into truth and helping them live godly lives.

The importance of Jesus' death and resurrection

Jesus' going to heaven was ultimately for the glory and welfare of His followers, for through His death and resurrection He provides atonement for the sins of mankind and the promise of eternal life in His Heavenly Kingdom.

_____

Attention! This is one of the possible interpretations based on the comments of famous theologians, which may differ from each other. If the interpretation is taken from other languages, then there may be a distortion of meaning when translating the language. Matthew 7:7-8

> Blessed are those who mourn, for they will be comforted.
> — Matthew 5:4

Book: New Testament / Matthew
Topics: Comforter, blessing, sadness

Interpretation:
This verse is part of the Sermon on the Mount, which Jesus delivered to His disciples on Mount Sinai after He chose the twelve apostles. The Sermon on the Mount is considered one of Jesus' most important teachings because it laid the foundation for Christian ethics and morals. In this sermon, Jesus explains what qualities true followers should have and how they should live.

What does this verse mean?

Jesus was talking about those who weep, and He was not necessarily talking about the weeping that comes from a sad situation in life. Jesus was talking about the weeping that comes when someone realizes how sinful their life is, how much harm they have done to others, or how far they are from fulfilling God's will.

The blessing here is that those who mourn and weep over their sin will be comforted. The comfort that the text is talking about is not a simple "feeling better" feeling, but a true, effective release from the burden of sin and repentance. Jesus promises that they will be comforted, which means that God will not leave them alone in their pain and sorrow.

_____

Attention! This is one of the possible interpretations based on the comments of famous theologians, which may differ from each other. If the interpretation is taken from other languages, then there may be a distortion of meaning when translating the language. Matthew 7:7-8

> When hard pressed, I cried to the Lord; he brought me into a spacious place.
> — Psalm 118:5

Book: Old Testament / Psalms

Topics: Comforter, dependence, Prayer

Interpretation:
Psalm 118 is a hymn of praise and thanksgiving to God for His faithfulness and unfailing love. Verse 5 reveals God's answer to the psalmist's prayer in a difficult time. In verse 4, the psalmist mentions crying out to God in a situation of extreme peril, but then, in verse 5, we learn that God answered him by placing him in a spacious place.

The importance of prayer in times of adversity

Verse 5 of this psalm shows us the importance of prayer in difficult times. Heaviness is a common feeling that can become overwhelming. In such moments, it's easy to fall into despair and anxiety, but the Bible shows us a way out: cry out to God in prayer.

Prayer is a tool that allows us to always be connected to God, and it is especially important when we are experiencing difficult trials. The Bible also teaches us to pray without ceasing and to cast all our cares on God, because He cares for us.

God's answer to our prayer

In verse 5, the psalmist shows us God's answer to his prayer: He brought him out of his distress and set him in a spacious place. God's answer to our prayers can take many forms: He can offer us comfort, strength, wisdom, peace, guidance, or even a solution to our problem. The main thing is to believe that God hears our prayer and will answer us in the best way.

_____

Attention! This is one of the possible interpretations based on the comments of famous theologians, which may differ from each other. If the interpretation is taken from other languages, then there may be a distortion of meaning when translating the language. Matthew 7:7-8

> When anxiety was great within me, your consolation brought me joy.
> — Psalm 94:19

Book: Old Testament / Psalms
Topics: Comforter, joy, worrying

Interpretation:
Psalm 94 is a song of divine justice, in which the psalmist describes how God punishes the wicked for their deeds and how He comforts the righteous who suffer at the hands of oppressors. In verse 19, the psalmist confesses that despite the many sad and sorrowful thoughts surrounding him, divine consolations brought joy to his soul.

This verse teaches us that God is always there to comfort us in our troubles and anxieties. The psalmist himself faces his own personal suffering in many inner thoughts, but God offers the consolation he needs to ease his soul.

The importance of divine consolation

Divine consolation is essential in times of pain and suffering, as it can help us overcome difficult situations. When we face challenges that seem insurmountable, divine consolation can bring joy and hope to our souls, helping us overcome difficulties. In this sense, divine comfort can be a very valuable tool, helping us move forward in difficult times.

How to apply this verse to our daily lives

In our daily lives, we may face challenges such as financial problems, family conflicts, health issues, stress at work, and much more. But as followers of God, we can apply Psalm 94:19 to our lives, understanding that even in our deepest thoughts, God is present, providing comfort, relief, and hope.

We can find comfort and joy in our daily lives by praying, reading the Bible, and meditating on God's messages. To do this, it is important to cultivate our relationship with Him by devoting time to meditation and prayer, as well as maintaining constant communication with Him.

_____

Attention! This is one of the possible interpretations based on the comments of famous theologians, which may differ from each other. If the interpretation is taken from other languages, then there may be a distortion of meaning when translating the language. Matthew 7:7-8

> ‘Never again will they hunger; never again will they thirst. The sun will not beat down on them,’ nor any scorching heat. For the Lamb at the center of the throne will be their shepherd; ‘he will lead them to springs of living water.’ ‘And God will wipe away every tear from their eyes.’
>
> — Revelation 7:16-17

Book: New Testament / Revelation
Topics: Comforter, encouragement, Eternal life, protection, sadness

Interpretation:

The Bible is full of comforting promises, and one of the most beautiful is found in Revelation 7:16-17, where we are assured that the Lamb, who is Jesus Christ, will shepherd His people and lead them to living springs of water, while God will wipe away every tear from their eyes. These verses are a message of hope and encouragement to those who are suffering, and they are proof that we can always find comfort in God's loving presence.

Deeper meaning

These verses are important because they give us a glimpse of the promise of a heavenly paradise where God will forever resolve all sorrow and pain. The image of a shepherd leading his flock to springs of fresh water is described as a place where every soul will find peace and well-being. Here we are reminded that God is the Shepherd who will lead His people through the trials of the world and lead those who follow Him to a place of blessing.

Jesus' promise

Jesus said in John 10:11, "I am the good shepherd. The good shepherd lays down his life for the sheep." This statement from Jesus reveals the depth of His love for us. He gave His life for us on the cross so that we could be led to springs of living water. His sacrifice is the guarantee that we will always have a source of comfort and love in difficult times. In His love and presence, we find the healing and comfort we need to keep going.

_____

Attention! This is one of the possible interpretations based on the comments of famous theologians, which may differ from each other. If the interpretation is taken from other languages, then there may be a distortion of meaning when translating the language. Matthew 7:7-8

> May the God who gives endurance and encouragement give you the same attitude of mind toward each other that Christ Jesus had.
>
> — Romans 15:5

Book: New Testament / Romans
Topics: Comforter, community, encouragement, patience

Interpretation:
Romans 15:5 is a call for unity in the church. It is a call to be on the same page with other believers who are guided by the teachings of Christ.

The verse begins with the mention of the “God of patience and comfort.” This expression refers to the God who is patient and comforts his children at all times. The next message is that God wants to give “the like-mindedness in Christ Jesus.” That is, God wants the church to have a collective conscience, so that everyone feels that Christ is their guide.

_____

Attention! This is one of the possible interpretations based on the comments of famous theologians, which may differ from each other. If the interpretation is taken from other languages, then there may be a distortion of meaning when translating the language. Matthew 7:7-8