 In Christ

> As for you, the anointing you received from him remains in you, and you do not need anyone to teach you. But as his anointing teaches you about all things and as that anointing is real, not counterfeit—just as it has taught you, remain in him.
>
> — 1 John 2:27

Book: New Testament / 1 John
Topics: receiving, learning, truth

Interpretation:
The verse we find in 1 John 2:27 tells us about the anointing we receive from God to help us in our lives and guide us in His ways. Anointing is a term used in the Bible to refer to the presence and power of the Holy Spirit in our lives.

The anointing teaches all things

The Apostle John tells us that the anointing we have received from God teaches us all things. This means that through the Holy Spirit we have access to divine wisdom that helps us make good decisions, understand God's will, and live in a way that honors Him.

The anointing allows us to see things from an eternal perspective, knowing that our lives are not just here and now, but that we have a purpose in this life that goes beyond the temporal.

Beware of lies

The verse also warns us against lies. It tells us that the anointing is true and not false. We must be careful in our beliefs and make sure that what we believe and teach is in line with what God reveals to us through His Word and the Holy Spirit.

In a world filled with information and opinions, it is important to be on guard against falling into the trap of empty beliefs without a true foundation. He has left us with tools to understand things more clearly and deeply.

Stay in the anointing

Finally, John encourages us to stay in the anointing. This means that we must continually seek God, study His Word, and allow the Holy Spirit to guide us. We must not separate ourselves from this anointing, for it is this anointing that protects us from falling into lies and deception.

Applying this teaching to our lives is essential to growing our faith and maintaining a strong relationship with God. We must strive to be close to Him every day, seeking His guidance and learning what He teaches us. The Christian life is not easy, but with the anointing that God gives us, we can face difficulties and overcome them.

_____

Attention! This is one of the possible interpretations based on the comments of famous theologians, which may differ from each other. If the interpretation is taken from other languages, then there may be a distortion of meaning when translating the language. Matthew 7:7-8

> Therefore we do not lose heart. Though outwardly we are wasting away, yet inwardly we are being renewed day by day.
> — 2 Corinthians 4:16

Book: New Testament / 2 Corinthians
Topics: receiving, beauty, body, encouragement

Interpretation:
2 Corinthians 4:16 encourages us to think about the importance of renewing our inner self. We often focus on taking care of our outer body and neglect our inner life, but the Bible teaches us that our soul is the most important thing.

Wear and tear of the outer man

The Apostle Paul tells us that our outer man wears out over time. The human body ages and loses strength, which can affect our quality of life. As we age, we feel more tired and less healthy - this is normal, but this should not deprive us of hope.

Renewing the inner man

While our body wears out, our inner man is being renewed day by day. What does this mean? It means that we must focus on taking care of our inner life, our soul. Just as the body needs food to stay healthy, our soul needs spiritual food.

How to renew our inner man

Renewing the inner man is an ongoing process that requires discipline and dedication. Here are some ways to refresh it:

- Prayer is a way to connect with God and open your hearts to Him. Spend time each day talking to and listening to God.
- The Bible is God's Word, containing valuable teachings for our lives. Read the Bible every day and meditate on its teachings.
- Service is a way to show love to others and follow Jesus' example. Spend time helping others and serving your community.
- Good deeds are a way to reflect God's love in our world. Do good to others and leave a positive impact on the lives of those around you.

_____

Attention! This is one of the possible interpretations based on the comments of famous theologians, which may differ from each other. If the interpretation is taken from other languages, then there may be a distortion of meaning when translating the language. Matthew 7:7-8

> And God is able to bless you abundantly, so that in all things at all times, having all that you need, you will abound in every good work.
> — 2 Corinthians 9:8

Book: New Testament / 2 Corinthians
Topics: receiving, blessing, giving, goodness, work, worrying

Interpretation:
2 Corinthians 9:8 is found in Paul's Second Epistle to the Corinthians. This letter was written around 55-56 CE and sent to the Corinthian church in Greece. In this verse, Paul encourages the Corinthians to raise a collection for the poor Christians in Jerusalem.

Interpretation

In this verse, Paul points to the goodness of God that gives believers the grace they need to do good works. God's grace is not just a gift, but a manifestation of His power. Paul says that God can give grace in abundance, and that believers should trust Him to give them everything they need to do good works.

The grace of God

The grace of God is something we all need in our Christian lives. We must trust God to give us everything we need to do good works. We must realize that our salvation does not depend on our works but on the sacrifice of Christ on the cross, but this does not mean that we should stop doing good.

When we depend on God for the energy and resources to do good, we can do things that we would not be able to do otherwise. We must trust God and ask Him for help when we face situations that seem insurmountable. We must ask the Lord to strengthen us and give us the tools we need to do His work.

_____

Attention! This is one of the possible interpretations based on the comments of famous theologians, which may differ from each other. If the interpretation is taken from other languages, then there may be a distortion of meaning when translating the language. Matthew 7:7-8

> His divine power has given us everything we need for a godly life through our knowledge of him who called us by his own glory and goodness.
> — 2 Peter 1:3

Book: New Testament / 2 Peter
Topics: receiving, life, strength

Interpretation:
2 Peter 1:3 speaks of the gratitude we should have for God for giving us everything we need to live a life of godliness and purpose. But what exactly does that mean? To understand it, we need to take a closer look at what the text is telling us.

The Things God Has Given Us

The first part of the verse says, "His divine power has given us everything we need for a godly life." Here Peter is talking about all the things we need to live a life of fullness and purpose. This includes basic needs like food, water, and shelter, of course, but it also includes things like health, friends, family, and the unique abilities that each person has.

In addition, God has given us everything we need to live a godly life. This includes access to His word through the Bible, the guidance of the Holy Spirit, the opportunity to pray, and the opportunity to gather with other believers.

Divine Power

It is important to note that all of this is given to us “by His divine power.” This means that our ability to live a full and purposeful life comes directly from God. It is He who gives us the tools we need to face life’s challenges, resist temptations, and do His will.

Knowing God

The verse also emphasizes that all of this is given to us “through our knowledge of him who called us by his own glory and goodness.” Here Peter is telling us that the key to accessing all of God’s blessings is knowing Him. It is through the revelation of His word that we learn who God is, what His plan is for our lives, and how we can fulfill His will.

_____

Attention! This is one of the possible interpretations based on the comments of famous theologians, which may differ from each other. If the interpretation is taken from other languages, then there may be a distortion of meaning when translating the language. Matthew 7:7-8

> We are witnesses of these things, and so is the Holy Spirit, whom God has given to those who obey him.
>
> — Acts 5:32

Book: New Testament / Acts
Topics: receiving, Holy Spirit, obedience, Spirit

Interpretation:
The book of Acts tells of the early years of the Christian church and how the disciples preached the gospel in Jerusalem and throughout the known world at that time. In this chapter, Peter and John were arrested for preaching in the temple and miraculously released by an angel, but were later arrested again and brought before the Sanhedrin, where they were ordered not to speak in the name of Jesus, but to obey God rather than men.

It is in this context that we find verse 5:32, where Peter and the apostles claim to be witnesses of what they saw and heard, namely the resurrection of Jesus and all that He did and taught. But they further claim that the Holy Spirit also bears witness to these things and is given by God to those who obey Him.

This verse then goes on to relate two fundamental aspects of the Christian life: the importance of personal testimony of what we have experienced and learned about Jesus, and obedience to the Holy Spirit, where faith is demonstrated in concrete actions.

The importance of testimony for a christian

Personal testimony is a powerful tool for helping others come to know Christ. No matter how well people know the Bible, they need to hear about how God works in our lives. People want to hear real stories of people who have faced difficult situations but found in Christ the hope, peace, and transformation they needed.

Moreover, our testimony allows others to see the authenticity and credibility of our faith. People can argue about theological concepts, but they cannot refute what we have experienced in our own relationship with God. This is why testimony is a powerful and effective way to evangelize.

Obedience to the Holy Spirit

The Holy Spirit is one of the three persons of the Trinity, the One who guides and accompanies us in our Christian life. However, it is not enough to know about Him; we must submit to Him and allow Him to guide our decisions and actions.

Obedience to the Holy Spirit involves being willing to give up our personal plans and desires in order to follow the paths God has for us. Sometimes this may seem difficult or contrary to our desires, but when we submit, we experience His guidance and blessing in our lives.

It is important to remember that obedience to the Holy Spirit is not optional, but essential to our Christian life. It is through His guidance that we can advance in our relationship with God and fulfill His purpose for our lives.

_____

Attention! This is one of the possible interpretations based on the comments of famous theologians, which may differ from each other. If the interpretation is taken from other languages, then there may be a distortion of meaning when translating the language. Matthew 7:7-8

> Whatever you do, work at it with all your heart, as working for the Lord, not for human masters, since you know that you will receive an inheritance from the Lord as a reward. It is the Lord Christ you are serving.
> — Colossians 3:23-24

Book: New Testament / Colossians
Topics: receiving, life, reward, work

Interpretation:

Colossians 3:23-24 calls us to do everything we do with all our heart, as if we were doing it for the Lord and not for men. It is a call to reflect and introspect on our actions in life, whether in the workplace, family, community, or other areas.

The verses call us to act with devotion and zeal, no matter the situation or context. This means that we should give our best in every task we undertake, large or small, so that our work is of high quality and reflects our Christian values.

Reward in the form of an inheritance

The reward of inheritance refers to God's promise to give His followers a share in His Heavenly Kingdom. This means that those who have served God faithfully in their earthly lives will be rewarded with eternal life in His presence.

This promise to inherit the Kingdom of God is not a reward earned by good works or by doing countless good deeds, but the grace of God given to us through the sacrifice of Jesus on the cross. By accepting Jesus as our Savior, we become heirs to the promised Kingdom.

How can we serve Christ the Lord?

The verses teach us that serving Christ the Lord is the key to receiving the reward of the inheritance. But how can we do this in our daily lives? There are many ways to serve God in our daily lives. Being a good example to others, inspiring others to believe in God, and helping those in need are just a few of the many ways we can serve God.

It is also important to make sure that we live a righteous life and do what is right at all times. If we strive to live in a way that pleases God and honors His Word, we are serving the Lord Christ.

_____

Attention! This is one of the possible interpretations based on the comments of famous theologians, which may differ from each other. If the interpretation is taken from other languages, then there may be a distortion of meaning when translating the language. Matthew 7:7-8

> I know that there is nothing better for people than to be happy and to do good while they live. That each of them may eat and drink, and find satisfaction in all their toil—this is the gift of God.
>
> — Ecclesiastes 3:12-13

Book: Old Testament / Ecclesiastes

Topics: receiving, food, joy, life, work

Interpretation:
The Book of Ecclesiastes is a treatise on biblical wisdom, calling us to reflect on life and its many facets. In Ecclesiastes 3:12-13, the author makes a compelling statement. This teaching, despite its simplicity, deeply covers several important aspects.

Rejoice in life

Joy is a feeling we all want to experience in life. However, we often allow worries, stress, and difficulties to overwhelm us, forgetting the importance of joy. Reading these verses, we can understand that joy is the key to a full and joyful life.

Joy allows us to savor the little things in life, such as a sunset, a delicious meal, or a conversation with friends. But it also makes us more resilient to difficulties, as it helps us view the world more optimistically and hopefully. Therefore, it can be said that joy is an essential component of a happy life.

Doing good in uur lives

Ecclesiastes 3:12-13 calls us to do good in our lives. What does this mean? Doing good is an attitude that is reflected in our daily actions. It means being honest, compassionate, generous, and fair. Doing good means opening up to the world, going beyond ourselves, and caring for others.

By doing good in our lives, we become agents of change and transformation. We can have a positive impact on the environment and contribute to building a more just and caring society. Doing good also brings us joy because we know we are doing something valuable and meaningful.

A different view of work and Its reward

People often have a negative attitude toward their work. It is seen as a duty or obligation that must be performed to earn a living, but it brings no joy. However, the author of Ecclesiastes calls us to value our work and the fruits of our labor. He shows us that God gives us the opportunity to enjoy what we have earned through our efforts and labor.

This means that life is not only about work, but also about enjoying its fruits. Work is important for earning a living, but enjoying its fruits is equally important. This is why the author of this book reminds us that the gift of enjoying what we have earned is the greatest gift we will ever receive.

A necessary balance

However, as with everything in life, a balance must be maintained between work and its reward. If we don't value work enough, we won't enjoy its fruits, but if we value the reward too much, we forget the importance of the process that allows us to earn it.

Our work and everything we do are important, but they are not all we are. We are multidimensional beings who require balance and harmony in our lives, and this is the most important lesson to be learned from these verses.

_____

Attention! This is one of the possible interpretations based on the comments of famous theologians, which may differ from each other. If the interpretation is taken from other languages, then there may be a distortion of meaning when translating the language. Matthew 7:7-8

> This is what I have observed to be good: that it is appropriate for a person to eat, to drink and to find satisfaction in their toilsome labor under the sun during the few days of life God has given them—for this is their lot.
> — Ecclesiastes 5:18

Book: Old Testament / Ecclesiastes
Topics: receiving, food, life, work

Interpretation:
The book of Ecclesiastes, written by King Solomon, is known for its reflections on life and the things that really matter. In this particular verse, Solomon talks about what he believes is truly important in life: enjoying the fruits of your labor.

Eat, drink, and be merry

Some people may associate the idea of ??“eat, drink, and be merry” with pleasure-seeking and self-indulgence. But what Solomon is really talking about here is that it’s good to enjoy the fruits of your labor. If we work hard every day, it’s only fair that we also enjoy the fruits of that labor, whether it’s a good meal, a refreshing drink, or anything else that makes us feel happy and fulfilled.

Rather than seeing this as an invitation to overindulge, we can see it as a reminder that we should take a moment to enjoy the fruits of our labor and celebrate our victories. This can help us feel more motivated and fulfilled in our daily work.

God's Reward

Solomon also notes that this is our reward for the work we do. It is important to remember that everything we do in life has a purpose and that our work is valued by God. Even if our work does not have an obvious purpose, we can be sure that there is a purpose to everything we do.

What happens to those who are unemployed?

It is important to note that not everyone has a job or has the opportunity to “enjoy the fruits of their labor.” For those who are struggling to find a job or are in a difficult situation, finding happiness can be difficult. In such cases, it is important to remember that God is with us in these difficult times and that He is working in our lives in ways we cannot yet fully understand.

We must find a way to find joy in the little things and not allow adversity to overcome us. We can seek support from friends and family, in prayer, and in our own inner resistance. Life is not always easy, but faith can give us the strength to move forward.

_____

Attention! This is one of the possible interpretations based on the comments of famous theologians, which may differ from each other. If the interpretation is taken from other languages, then there may be a distortion of meaning when translating the language. Matthew 7:7-8

> Moreover, when God gives someone wealth and possessions, and the ability to enjoy them, to accept their lot and be happy in their toil—this is a gift of God.
>
> — Ecclesiastes 5:19

Book: Old Testament / Ecclesiastes
Topics: receiving, food, joy, money, work

Interpretation:
The book of Ecclesiastes is one of the wise and instructive books of the Bible. In it, its author, presumably King Solomon, reflects on the pleasures, sorrows, and vicissitudes of life.

Enjoy divine blessings without guilt

Sometimes we feel guilty about enjoying God's blessings, either because we believe we don't deserve them or because we think it's better to be modest and avoid attention. However, Ecclesiastes 5:19 reminds us that these blessings are God's gift, and therefore it is our duty to enjoy them. Of course, without falling into excess or arrogance, but always thanking the Lord for His generous blessings.

Work hard to enjoy blessings

Another important lesson from this verse is that to enjoy God's blessings, we must work hard. God does not bestow blessings and riches upon us magically or unfairly, but tests our capacity for effort and perseverance. It is our duty to strive for excellence in all we do and, as a result, to receive the rewards God has in store for us.

_____

Attention! This is one of the possible interpretations based on the comments of famous theologians, which may differ from each other. If the interpretation is taken from other languages, then there may be a distortion of meaning when translating the language. Matthew 7:7-8

> I pray that the eyes of your heart may be enlightened in order that you may know the hope to which he has called you, the riches of his glorious inheritance in his holy people.
> — Ephesians 1:18

Book: New Testament / Ephesians
Topics: receiving, hope, Light, understanding

Interpretation:
Ephesians 1:18 is a verse from the book of Ephesians that calls us to reflect on our knowledge and understanding of our faith in God. This verse tells us about the importance of seeking enlightenment in our minds.

The importance of spiritual enlightenment

Spiritual enlightenment is a very important concept in the Christian faith and refers to our ability to perceive and understand God’s commands and teachings. In this verse, we find a call to seek this enlightenment and develop a deeper, more meaningful understanding of our faith.

Hope in our faith

Hope is one of the foundational concepts of the Christian life and means faith in a better future, both in this life and in the next. In Ephesians 1:18, we find a mention of this hope, which is presented as the reason why God has called us.

The spiritual enlightenment that we are called to in this verse helps us understand and strengthen our hope in God and His plan for our lives.

The riches of the Inheritance of the saints

Another idea present in this verse is the description of “the riches of his glorious inheritance in his holy people.” This inheritance refers to the gifts and blessings that God has prepared for those who follow Him and place their faith in Him.

Spiritual enlightenment is of great help in understanding the scope and importance of this inheritance, which goes beyond the material and is enriched by the spiritual and divine.

_____

Attention! This is one of the possible interpretations based on the comments of famous theologians, which may differ from each other. If the interpretation is taken from other languages, then there may be a distortion of meaning when translating the language. Matthew 7:7-8

> The Lord said to Moses, “Come up to me on the mountain and stay here, and I will give you the tablets of stone with the law and commandments I have written for their instruction.”
> — Exodus 24:12

Book: Old Testament / Exodus
Topics: receiving, law, obedience

Interpretation:
In Exodus 24:12, God commands Moses to go up the mountain and fetch the stone tablets containing the commandments and the law. This command is clear and emphasizes the importance of God's laws and commands. These commandments and laws are crucial to Christian faith and life, as they serve as a guide for following God's will in our daily lives.

Why do we need commandments?

God's commandments and law reflect His perfect will and character. They provide us with clear and specific guidance for living a life pleasing to Him and help us avoid sinful acts. Often, our sinful nature prompts us to choose the wrong path, but God's commandments point us to the right path and show us how to live a holy and righteous life.

God's commandments as teaching

In Exodus 24:12, God asks Moses to go up the mountain and fetch the stone tablets containing the commandments and the law to teach them to the people of Israel. This shows us that God's commandments are not only for our own observance, but also for sharing with others so they can learn and follow them. Teaching God's commandments is a way to share God's love and truth with others.

_____

Attention! This is one of the possible interpretations based on the comments of famous theologians, which may differ from each other. If the interpretation is taken from other languages, then there may be a distortion of meaning when translating the language. Matthew 7:7-8

> You need to persevere so that when you have done the will of God, you will receive what he has promised.
> — Hebrews 10:36

Book: New Testament / Hebrews
Topics: receiving, obedience, patience, promises

Interpretation:
One of the most important values ??in the Christian life is patience. The Bible repeatedly tells us about the need for patience and perseverance in our daily lives, as it is fundamental to the fulfillment of God's promise.

Hebrews 10:36 gives us a clear teaching. Here, the apostle Paul tells us that patience is necessary for us to achieve what God has prepared for us. But why is this so important?

The importance of patience

Patience is a virtue that allows us to remain calm and balanced during difficult times or times of waiting. It helps us trust God and His plans for our lives, even when we do not understand what is happening or do not see the end result.

In the Christian life, we must patiently wait for God's promises, because He has a specific time and way to fulfill them. It doesn’t always happen the way we expect or when we want it to, but if we remain faithful and trust Him, we can receive the blessings and promises He has given us.

God’s will

This verse also says to do God’s will. What does that mean? Simply put, God’s will is everything He wants for our lives. It includes our decisions, our thoughts, and our actions. When we do God’s will, we walk in obedience and submission to Him.

To know God’s will, we must seek His presence through prayer and Bible reading. He will speak to us and guide us in the path we should take. The closer we are to Him, the clearer His voice will be and the better decisions we will be able to make in our lives.

_____

Attention! This is one of the possible interpretations based on the comments of famous theologians, which may differ from each other. If the interpretation is taken from other languages, then there may be a distortion of meaning when translating the language. Matthew 7:7-8

> If any of you lacks wisdom, you should ask God, who gives generously to all without finding fault, and it will be given to you.
> — James 1:5

Book: New Testament / James
Topics: receiving, generosity, wisdom

Interpretation:
The book of James, like all the other books of the Bible, is full of teachings and messages that guide us in our daily lives. One of the most important verses is James 1:5, which encourages us to ask God for wisdom to help us deal with challenges and make good decisions.

The importance of wisdom in the Bible

In the Bible, wisdom refers to the ability to understand and apply the ethical and moral principles set forth by God. It is often contrasted with the lack of wisdom, which refers to the inability or unwillingness to follow God's ways. Wisdom is also associated with the intellect, but it goes far beyond it because it involves a deep understanding of things and the ability to apply knowledge in practice.

Ask God for wisdom

James 1:5 reminds us that wisdom is not something we can acquire on our own. Instead of relying on our own understanding, we must ask God to give us wisdom. The good news is that God answers our questions when we ask for wisdom, and He gives it generously without blaming us for our shortcomings.

This promise is especially important for those of us who face challenges in our daily lives. A lack of wisdom can cause us to make poor decisions, which in turn can increase stress and anxiety. Asking God for wisdom can help us approach challenges with confidence and remove anxiety from our lives.

_____

Attention! This is one of the possible interpretations based on the comments of famous theologians, which may differ from each other. If the interpretation is taken from other languages, then there may be a distortion of meaning when

translating the language. Matthew 7:7-8

> Until now you have not asked for anything in my name. Ask and you will receive, and your joy will be complete.
> — John 16:24

Book: New Testament / John
Topics: receiving, Blameless, joy, reliability

Interpretation:
This verse is part of a speech that Jesus gave to his disciples shortly before his crucifixion. He was telling them that he was going away, but he was promising them that they would not be alone, that the Holy Spirit would come to them and guide them into the truth.

Jesus is telling his disciples that they could ask anything in his name and they would receive it, so that their joy would be complete. But what does it mean to ask in the name of Jesus?

To ask in the name of Jesus is to ask in His authority and according to His character and will. It does not mean simply saying “in the name of Jesus” at the end of a prayer. It is to ask with a humble heart and to submit to the will of God, in the name of the One who is our mediator with the Father.

Jesus wants His disciples to have complete joy. He knows that His departure will be painful, but He promises them that they will receive in his name whatever they ask, so that their joy will be complete. This does not mean that we will receive everything we want, but everything we need to fulfill God's purpose in our lives.

Prayer is a way to connect with God and ask Him to help us with our needs. Through prayer, we can experience the joy and peace that only God can give us. Joy is not found in what we receive, but in our relationship with our Savior.

_____

Attention! This is one of the possible interpretations based on the comments of famous theologians, which may differ from each other. If the interpretation is taken from other languages, then there may be a distortion of meaning when translating the language. Matthew 7:7-8

> But very truly I tell you, it is for your good that I am going away. Unless I go away, the Advocate will not come to you; but if I go, I will send him to you.

> — John 16:7

Book: New Testament / John
Topics: receiving, Comforter, pentecost, Spirit, truth

Interpretation:
In the Bible verse John 16:7, when we read it, we may find it strange and even alarming that Jesus states that His departure is for our benefit.

The coming of the Comforter

However, as with many other passages in the Bible, the key to understanding this message is in the context. The “departure” Jesus speaks of is His ascension to heaven after His death. And after His departure will come the coming of the Comforter, the Holy Spirit, who will be sent to His followers in His place.

The work of the Holy Spirit

The Holy Spirit is considered one of the three persons of the Trinity, along with God the Father and God the Son. After Jesus’ departure, the Holy Spirit becomes His representative and Comforter on earth, guiding believers into truth and helping them live godly lives.

The importance of Jesus' death and resurrection

Jesus' going to heaven was ultimately for the glory and welfare of His followers, for through His death and resurrection He provides atonement for the sins of mankind and the promise of eternal life in His Heavenly Kingdom.

_____

Attention! This is one of the possible interpretations based on the comments of famous theologians, which may differ from each other. If the interpretation is taken from other languages, then there may be a distortion of meaning when translating the language. Matthew 7:7-8

> But whoever drinks the water I give them will never thirst. Indeed, the water I give them will become in them a spring of water welling up to eternal life.
> — John 4:14

Book: New Testament / John
Topics: receiving, Eternal life, transformation

Interpretation:
In this verse from the Gospel of John, we find Jesus speaking to the Samaritan woman who had come to Jacob's well to quench her thirst. Jesus tells her about the water He can give that will be a source of living water that will spring up into eternal life. This verse tells us about the possibility of having eternal and full life through Jesus.

This verse is about spiritual thirst and the quenching of it through His Word that leads to eternal life, and an invitation for all people to drink of the water that Jesus offers, have a personal experience with Him, and receive eternal life. Jesus is not just talking about a temporary solution to physical thirst, but a solution that goes beyond this earthly life.

_____

Attention! This is one of the possible interpretations based on the comments of famous theologians, which may differ from each other. If the interpretation is taken from other languages, then there may be a distortion of meaning when translating the language. Matthew 7:7-8

> Give, and it will be given to you. A good measure, pressed down, shaken together and running over, will be poured into your lap. For with the measure you use, it will be measured to you.
> — Luke 6:38

Book: New Testament / Luke
Topics: receiving, generosity, giving, reward

Interpretation:
Luke 6:38 teaches us the importance of giving. It tells us that when we give to others, we receive the same. This teaching can be applied to many areas of our lives, both material and spiritual.

What does it mean to give according to the verse

Giving involves not only giving something material, like money or food, but also giving of our time, energy, and abilities for the benefit of others. The good measure that the verse speaks of, pressed down, shaken together, and running over, means that we are to give generously and with a thankful heart.

How can this verse help us?

This verse reminds us that when we give, we sow seeds that will multiply into blessings for ourselves and those we help. It also encourages us to be generous and to think about the well-being of others, rather than focusing only on ourselves.

_____

Attention! This is one of the possible interpretations based on the comments of famous theologians, which may differ from each other. If the interpretation is taken from other languages, then there may be a distortion of meaning when translating the language. Matthew 7:7-8

> Therefore I tell you, whatever you ask for in prayer, believe that you have received it, and it will be yours.
> — Mark 11:24

Book: New Testament / Mark
Topics: receiving, faith, Prayer

Interpretation:
Mark 11:24 is a promise of faith. In this passage, Jesus is speaking to His disciples after cursing the fig tree that bore no fruit. He is telling them that if they have faith and do not doubt, they can ask for anything in prayer and they will receive it. In other words, if we trust God and believe in Him, we can receive anything we ask for.

The first part of the verse tells us that we can ask for anything in prayer. This means that God can do anything for us if we trust Him. Whether it is a material or spiritual need, we can approach God with any request in prayer. Prayer is our direct connection with Him, allowing us to express our needs, concerns, and desires.

The key point, however, is revealed in the second part of the verse: we must believe that we will receive what we ask for. Faith is the foundation of the Christian life. If we don't believe that God is able to do what we ask for, how can we expect it to be done? Faith allows us to see beyond our current situation and believe that God is able to change our reality.

It is important to note that faith does not always mean that we will get what we want. Sometimes what we think we need is not what is best for us. Furthermore, we must understand that our requests must be in alignment with God's will. In other words, our requests must be for the glory of God and for our spiritual well-being. God wants what is best for us, and if we trust Him, He will give us what we need, not necessarily what we want.

On the other hand, there are times when we feel that our prayers are not being answered. The lack of an answer does not mean that God has abandoned us or is not listening. He may be calling us to patience, telling us that it is not the right time to ask, or that our motives are wrong. If we continue to trust Him and have faith, we will eventually receive an answer.

_____

Attention! This is one of the possible interpretations based on the comments of famous theologians, which may differ from each other. If the interpretation is taken from other languages, then there may be a distortion of meaning when translating the language. Matthew 7:7-8

> Heal the sick, raise the dead, cleanse those who have leprosy, drive out demons. Freely you have received; freely give.
> — Matthew 10:8

Book: New Testament / Matthew
Topics: receiving, giving, healing, health, sickness

Interpretation:
Matthew 10:8 is a verse found in the context of Jesus calling His disciples to go and preach and perform miracles in His name. In this verse, Jesus gives them specific instructions on what they are to do during their mission. He tells them to heal the sick, cleanse the lepers, raise the dead, and cast out demons. Furthermore, it reminds them that they have received the gift of God's grace and are to give it generously.

Healing and miracles are central themes in the Gospels. Through them, Jesus demonstrated his power and divinity to those who followed him, as well as proclaimed the Kingdom of God. The fact that Jesus asks his disciples to do the same indicates that the mission he has given them is as important as his own.

Exorcism is a recurring theme in the Bible. Several times in the New Testament, people are described as being possessed by demons or evil spirits, who are cast out by Jesus or his disciples. In the context of Matthew 10:8, Jesus tells his disciples that they also have the power to cast out demons. This suggests that while evil is real, God's power is much greater and can overcome it.

Another thing that stands out in this verse is the importance of giving grace to what we have received from God. God's love and grace are free and should not be commercialized. This is often forgotten in the modern church, where sometimes more emphasis is placed on the monetary aspects than the spiritual ones.

_____

Attention! This is one of the possible interpretations based on the comments of famous theologians, which may differ from each other. If the interpretation is taken from other languages, then there may be a distortion of meaning when

translating the language. Matthew 7:7-8

> Blessed are those who hunger and thirst for righteousness, for they will be filled.
>
> — Matthew 5:6

Book: New Testament / Matthew
Topics: receiving, blessing, food, righteousness

Interpretation:
Justice is an important theme in the Bible, referring to the virtue of doing right and justly toward others. Matthew 5:6 shows us that those who desire righteousness will be blessed by God and will be satisfied. But how can we best understand the meaning of this passage of Scripture?

Hunger and Thirst for Justice

The first part of the verse talks about a hunger and thirst for righteousness. This implies a deep need and desire for justice in all areas of life. A person who hungers and thirsts for justice strives to do what is right not only for themselves but also for others. This can be a difficult task, since conflicts and misunderstandings often arise in human relationships.

The Promise of Satisfaction

The second part of the verse tells us about the promise of satisfaction. Those who hunger and thirst for righteousness are promised satisfaction. This means that God will reward them for their pursuit of justice and give them the satisfaction they seek.

This promise is important because sometimes it may seem that those who strive to do what is right are ignored or mistreated. But the Bible assures us that God recognizes and rewards the pursuit of justice.

_____

Attention! This is one of the possible interpretations based on the comments of famous theologians, which may differ from each other. If the interpretation is taken from other languages, then there may be a distortion of meaning when translating the language. Matthew 7:7-8

> Ask and it will be given to you; seek and you will find; knock and the door will be opened to you.

> — Matthew 7:7

Book: New Testament / Matthew
Topics: receiving, promises, reward, seeking

Interpretation:
Prayer is a powerful and effective tool that allows us to connect with God and ask Him for help or guidance in our lives. Matthew 7:7 reminds us to ask and seek in prayer so that we can receive what we need and find what we are looking for. It also invites us to knock and God will open the door for us.

Ask and it will be given to you

This first call to prayer calls us to ask God for what we need. As humans, we have needs and desires that sometimes we cannot meet on our own. Prayer is a way to ask for help and trust in the power and goodness of God to give us what we need. However, we must be careful not to ask for things that are selfish or harmful to ourselves or others.

Seek and you will find

Prayer seeking is a call to seek God's will in our lives. Often we have questions or confusion about circumstances or decisions we need to make. Prayer is a way of seeking wisdom and divine direction in our lives. By searching in prayer, we can find the answer we need.

Knock and the door will be opened to you

When we knock on God’s door in prayer, He always answers us and opens the door for us. But sometimes we need to be patient and wait for the answer. It is also important that we be willing to receive the answer God gives us, even if it is not what we expected or wanted. We must be open to God’s will and trust that His answer is for our highest good.

_____

Attention! This is one of the possible interpretations based on the comments of famous theologians, which may differ from each other. If the interpretation is taken from other languages, then there may be a distortion of meaning when translating the language. Matthew 7:7-8

> I spread out my hands to you; I thirst for you like a parched land.
> — Psalm 143:6

Book: Old Testament / Psalms

Topics: receiving, dependence, worship

Interpretation:
Psalm 143:6 is a powerful verse that speaks to us about the constant quest to reach God. The writer describes his longing for God's presence with a vivid metaphor: his soul thirsts for God like a thirsty earth thirsts for rain. This is a picture we can all understand: thirst is a physical need, and the desire for God's presence is a spiritual need.

If we focus on the first part of the verse, "I spread out my hands to You", we can interpret this as an attitude of surrender and submission to the presence of God. When we stretch out our hands to God, we acknowledge that we are willing to submit to Him and allow Him to mold us and lead us into His will. It is an act of humility and a sign that we are open to receiving His love and guidance.

The second part of the verse, "I thirst for you like a parched land" makes us think about our own spiritual thirst. In a world where superficiality and apathy prevail, it is easy to lose sight of the importance of our deepest longings, especially those that relate to our longing for spirituality and a relationship with God. This verse reminds us of the need to feed our souls and satisfy our spiritual thirst by seeking the presence of God.

In Psalm 63:1, David expresses a similar desire to Psalm 143:6: "You, God, are my God, earnestly I seek you; I thirst for you, my whole being longs for you, in a dry and parched land where there is no water".

These verses show us the importance of living a life centered in the presence of God.

_____

Attention! This is one of the possible interpretations based on the comments of famous theologians, which may differ from each other. If the interpretation is taken from other languages, then there may be a distortion of meaning when translating the language. Matthew 7:7-8

> And hope does not put us to shame, because God's love has been poured out into our hearts through the Holy Spirit, who has been given to us.
> — Romans 5:5

Book: New Testament / Romans
Topics: receiving, heart, Holy Spirit, hope, love, Spirit

Interpretation:

Romans 5:5 tells us about the hope that does not disappoint, because the love of God has been poured out in our hearts through the Holy Spirit who has been given to us. This verse is an inspiring reminder that we can trust that God cares for us even in the most difficult times.

How can this verse help us?

In times of suffering, it can be hard to find hope. But Romans 5:5 reminds us that the hope that does not disappoint is the love of God.

The presence of the Holy Spirit in our hearts enables us to feel His love and gives us the strength to move forward. This verse also reminds us that even if the circumstances around us are not favorable, our unconditional love for God is not.

_____

Attention! This is one of the possible interpretations based on the comments of famous theologians, which may differ from each other. If the interpretation is taken from other languages, then there may be a distortion of meaning when translating the language. Matthew 7:7-8

> He who did not spare his own Son, but gave him up for us all—how will he not also, along with him, graciously give us all things?
>
> — Romans 8:32

Book: New Testament / Romans
Topics: receiving, Father, sacrifice

Interpretation:
Romans 8:32 is one of the most significant and profound chapters in the Bible. The Apostle Paul connects justification by faith in Jesus Christ, the work of the Holy Spirit, and the assurance of eternal salvation. This verse highlights the greatness of God’s grace and generosity toward us.

The sacrifice of Jesus

God gave His beloved Son to die on the cross and thus paid the price we would have to pay for our sins. The Father did not seek a substitute on whom to vent His wrath, but gave His one and only Son (John 3:16).

So great is God’s love that He did not spare His Son for our benefit. Jesus’ death was a sovereign act that changed human history forever.

God's generosity

In the same verse, Saint Paul expresses the thought that if God gave His Son for us, how can He not also give us all things with Him? This means that God not only forgives us, but also gives us His love, His grace and His generosity.

Moreover, this attitude of God is an evangelical message that transcends eras and cultures. God's generosity is universal and is a sign of His unconditional love.

_____

Attention! This is one of the possible interpretations based on the comments of famous theologians, which may differ from each other. If the interpretation is taken from other languages, then there may be a distortion of meaning when translating the language. Matthew 7:7-8